Eli-Mon

Cousin Jennie,

Banja,

It has been a long and hard road to the top, but we will finally become seniors. Whenever I feel sad and unhappy because something goes wrong. But whenever I see your shining smile and tremendous laugh, I feel much better. You have been an inspiration and a great help to me in everything I try to do. The best of luck and love to you in your senior year. I know that you will graduate with high honors.

Love,
Reenie

Janie,

So one of the cutest girls that I've known for a long time. Keep your cute smile and personality and life will treat you great.

Carol,

Jennie,

Gee — there's so much that can be said, the years have just flown by. We've known each other only for 17 years and we've experienced so many triumphs and defeats, but it has been fun. Right Jen? I'm sure you know how I feel about you. I think your one of the sweetest, nicest, prettiest, and friendliest girls I know. Your friendship means the world to me and I hope and pray it will last forever. Never forget all those crazy things we have ~~known~~ done together, like all the times I slept at your house or the times we went to the drive-in and threw the ice, or all those nerve-racking football games, or those wonderful days down at the pool, or those terrible times at that queer library, and of course all those ridiculous rides so you know where. Thanks so much for putting up with me and having such a nice shoulder to cry on, when I was telling you all my problems (weren't they stupid now). We've shared so many secrets that I really think we should have been sisters (THAT WOULD BE FUNNY). Well Jen, you know I wish you all the best of luck in the future in whatever you may do, either French or music or of course when and if you get married. I hope all your dreams come true and you never want for anything. Good luck with that special someone. ??? And please Jen, never lose that fabulous personality and never ever forget me!

"Your devoted friend"
for keeps

Jennie,
You're really sweet and warm-hearted girl who
I'm glad I got to know this year. Remember all the fun we've had together.
God's blessings in all you may ever do. Keep smiling!
Love,
Di (anne K.)

Foreword

"Doors are interesting; they open and close." If these words seem strange, consider them for a moment. Students pass through many doors every day without giving them a thought, unless they stick. Yet doors are interesting because they lead to many events.

Throughout the pages of this book we will pass through many doors: lobby door, activity room door, gym door and auditorium door. The doors which lead to extra curricular activities are of importance as are the doors leading to our scholastic program. The doors we open and close today will decide the lives we live tomorrow.

IBM for Marie Reid

Each year the Eli-Mon staff chooses one worthy person to whom to dedicate the yearbook. This person must be well-liked, respected, and eager to help our school progress. Usually this honor is given to a member of the faculty or administration, and justly so. But the members of the staff feel that one important group has been overlooked in the past.

This year's book is therefore dedicated to Mrs. Marie Reid for her help in promoting school enthusiasm, her work in the high school office, and her cooperation with the yearbook staff. This year Marie, as she is called with respect, has had the difficult task of mastering the complicated I.B.M. machine. Her other duties include working as Mr. Benedetti's secretary, keeping track of and handling club funds, and answering all the thousands of questions students ask. Miraculously she is able to do all this and still retain her friendly smile.

Once it's started, all she does is smile.

Marie cheerfully receives orders for the day from Mr. Benedetti.

Industrious, Busy Marie

Club money is in good hands with Marie.

Board and

The administration and Board of Education of Elizabeth-Forward High School are constantly working to promote school progress. No school can prosper unless it has an efficient administration, and our school is fortunate in having just that.

Supervisors

This year Elizabeth-Forward was proud to open its own football stadium. It was largely through the efforts of the administration that this was accomplished. In a few years they plan to add better bleachers, lighting, and other improvements to the stadium.

Miss Ruth Guzanick, Miss Patricia Wallace, and Miss Nancy Balas work in the district office.

High School Administration

Every student has entered the high school office door at some time or another to be greeted by Mr. Benedetti and Dr. Toth, who are always waiting to give assistance. Together they help to maintain the order which makes our school run smoothly. Their friendliness is an important factor in creating a cordial atmosphere within Elizabeth-Forward High School.

Dr. Toth resigned to accept the position of Supervising Principal in Lower Burrell School District. He was replaced on January 2, 1964, by Mr. Moreschi who had been assistant junior high principal.

Opportunity Knocks Here

The guidance counselors of Elizabeth-Forward High School always do their best to help students make decisions about courses, colleges, and careers. They are continually kept busy arranging interviews, inviting guest speakers, and helping with schedule planning. This year the college board examinations were given at our school, making it easier for college bound students to take them. No matter what a student has difficulty with, the guidance counselors are always available to give helpful advice.

Math:
Doorway to Knowledge

This year E-F has opened more doors to modern mathematics. The first new method is S.M.S.G. (School Mathematics Study Group). With this plan: freshmen take Algebra I; sophomores, Geometry; juniors, Intermediate Math; the seniors, Functions. The second method is the Program Learning of Algebra, or Temac, published by the Encyclopedia Britannica Co. Under this plan, the student works at his own rate, and may possibly complete Algebra I and II in the same year. For the accelerated college-bound student, a college course in Calculus has been added to the curriculum.

The sophomores are provided with World Culture lectures twice a week in the high school auditorium. An advanced placement course in American History is given to outstanding juniors. The seniors may choose between Economics and Sociology or Problems of Democracy. An advanced placement course in European History is also offered which may give those students college credit.

This year a special course in economics was given after school one night a week.

Health and Safety Education: Doorways to Better Living

The health courses given to seniors are designed to teach students more about personal health, behavior, and personalities. They help students prepare to become better citizens and leaders. The Physical Education program provides a means for students to remain physically fit by organized classes of sports, gymnastics, and games. The Safety Department, or driver's education, teaches students proper driving, as well as the basic principles of auto mechanisms. English is the doorway to imagination and creation, as well as communication. Elizabeth-Forward has excellent classes in English, speech, and composition. An Advanced Placement class is offered to seniors showing a special interest in literature and the classics. The junior class is participating in team teaching this year. Three times a week they meet for group discussion, and twice a week they assemble in the auditorium for lectures with the emphasis on composition. The course is divided into units, including novels, short stories, drama, poetry, and word study

Music, the language of expression, is presented to the high school through the chorus and band. The Warrior Choir, under the direction of Mr. Harrity, performs an annual fall concert and a spring musical. There are also a freshman choir and a girls' chorus. The band presents a half time show at the football games, a concert of popular music in February, and a spring concert. Mr. Iacobucci, director of the band, works together with Mr. Harrity to conduct a Christmas program.

Door to Personalities
Classes

The most important part of E.-F. is, of course, her students. All the classes, working as a unit, make our school the great one it is.

The freshmen may be low on the totem pole, but since they are potential seniors they learn quickly. By the end of the year the freshmen know all there is to know about getting around the school. The sophomores already have a year in, and are starting to show their talents as school leaders. Juniors open doors underclassmen fear to touch. They have a very active class, since it is their task to collect funds for the prom. No event is more important to them, because the prom is their way of showing the seniors they are ready to take over.

The seniors remain unsurpassed as they spend a busy year rushing in and out of various doors making preparations for the years to follow. Not only do they still have many high school activities such as the senior banquet, class night, and commencement, but the seniors are getting ready to undertake new college or job responsibilities next year.

Just Wait Juniors, You'll Soon Be Through the Door

Three years ago, when you entered the doors of the high school, nothing could have seemed further away than the day when you would be upperclassmen. The time passed quickly, however, and before you knew it your only worry was how to make money for the prom. You settled your problem without too much trouble by selling Warrior license plates, refreshments at the games, and most of all, magazines. The worry over the prom settled, now you can lean back and wait for the day when you'll be a senior.

Marcelle Niccolls

Like every American student, Marcelle talks in study hall.

from the desk of ~
Marcelle Niccolls ~

Hi,

I should like to express my thanks and appreciation to all of you at Elizabeth-Forward: the administration, faculty, and, of course, the students, for making me feel so very welcome.

This year at E. F. High has taught me many wonderful things, which I am sure I shall always remember. I hope that in return you too have learned something of life outside the United States.

Graduation is both a happy and a sad event. Most of you will be going on to college, and will not be seeing each other for a while. As for me, I shall return to my little island with mixed emotions. I will be glad to see my family and friends again, but I will also feel a touch of sadness, for I know I'll be wishing that my year here were only just beginning.

I wish each one of you the very best in your life ahead. I shall be back to visit you soon.

Sincerely,
Marcelle

Marlene Pilarcik—EF Student Abroad

Nestled in the heart of Europe is a tiny country less than twice the size of New Jersey, and yet more contrasting than all of the 50 states put together. It is here in Switzerland, that I had the opportunity to spend a year of my life.

When I say that Switzerland is a land of contrast, believe me, I'm not exaggerating, but all the cliche's often heard about it are mostly false. Contrary to what people believe, there is not a "Swiss type." The Swiss may be fair or dark, tall or short, thin or robust. The differences, however, don't end with their physical appearances; each part of Switzerland has a reputation for the type of people that live there. In Zurich they are often gloomy; in Lausanne, they are relaxed; in Lugano, easygoing; and in Berne, slow. I've heard a story about a parachutist from Berne who was almost killed because it took him so long to count to three before pulling the cord. This story proves that the Swiss don't mind their diversities and often laugh about them. They speak four different languages; are Catholics, Jews, Protestants, or disbelievers; and yet have survived 673 years as a nation.

The scenic postcard views of Switzerland are accurate. It isn't a country rich in natural resources. One-fourth of its area is barren mountain land, and they have no coal, iron, or oil. Nothing but majestic mountains, emerald green forests, and blue sparkling streams. It is due to this poverty, however, that they owe their prosperity and high standard of living. The mountains and forests beckon tourists from miles away and the streams help to generate hydroelectric power which runs Swiss railroads and factories.

The notion that the average Swiss is a happy-go-lucky yodeler who lives in a chalet clinging to the side of the Matterhorn, eats cheese, makes watches, and sells skis is about as true as the notion that all Americans are millionaires, who live in skyscrapers, eat ice cream and pizza and always think up schemes to make money. The truth is that the Swiss are very complex people with considerable emotional differences between the German speaking Swiss (73% of the total pop.) the French Swiss (21%) the Italian-Swiss (5%) and the Romansch (1%). A peculiarity of the language situation is the importance which the German-speaking population attach to their dialect. It's given the general name "Schweizerdeutsch" but it varies from valley to valley and from Kanton to Kanton. If you want my opinion, it shoulds like they hastily swallow the last part of each word. Literary German has to be learned in school like a foreign language and is only used in writing. The funny part of it is that each Swiss instinctively dislikes "Hochdeutsch"; which didn't make things easy for me when I couldn't understand a word of that mysterious Swiss German.

Quality and precision are the national trademarks of Switzerland. The Swiss like everything to be perfect—no trash or mass production goods are sold because they have contempt for anything shoddy.

The desire to have everything in order is embedded in the heart of practically every Swiss, and cleanliness is an obsession. Even gas station attendants regularly wash the soil from their pumps, and I often see housewives happily sweeping up the sidewalks in front of their houses and rigorously shaking their feather mattresses from an upstairs window.

My school isn't very active socially—we are there to learn and that's what we do (most of the time). Between classes "kids will be kids" and my class is about as nutty as any bunch of native Americans. They all went wild when I brought them each a peanut butter sandwich, and I even have them telling elephant jokes (heaven forbid).

Yes, Switzerland is a diverse little country, but in this diversity its beauty lies, from the ragged mountain peaks that take your breath away to the quaint villages made glorious with age and the impressive castles rising proudly over a river or town . . . beauty, warmth, charm—this is Switz. For me, this is enough to prove that good things do come in small packages!!

You See, Seniors, It Was Possible After All

After four years at E-F, the Seniors are at last ready to put aside high school and all it has meant to them. Graduation looms as a door to the future. It means leaving behind football and basketball games, pep rallies, school dances, and assemblies, as well as many acquaintances. Anticipation of the future is great, for we will no longer be experienced seniors of Elizabeth-Forward High, but will be freshmen in the school of life. We are ready to meet new challenges, armed with a sound basic education and an ability to get along with other people.

Progressive events, such as choosing new class rings without the crests, holding the after-prom party in the gym, and opening the new football field with an outdoor pep rally, will be subject to greater change in later years, but will always remain a part of our wonderful senior year and of the Class of 1964.

Door to Achievement
Academic

The academic section of the Eli-Mon is devoted to classes and clubs which aid the scholastic development of E.-F.'s students. These organizations require much after-school endurance which is arranged in an enjoyable fashion in order to broaden the student's scope of his favorite subject. Scholastically, these students obtain wisdom; socially, they gain pride. When they attend events in other school districts, they represent our school, and we are judged by their enthusiasm and behavior.

The future holds money to burn.

Deutsche Verein

Under the direction of Mrs. Williams, the club sponsor, German Club members spend many hours learning about the land and people of Germany and other German-speaking countries. They learn also of the music, art, and literature of these lands so that their own lives are enriched.

Officers: Mrs. Williams, sponsor; Darlene Torockio, president; Judy Cain, vice-president; Pollyann Hynde, secretary; Bill McKeever, treasurer; David Kier, reporter.

"German Club discusses pennant sale."

"An offering to the gods is serious business!"

Junior Classical League

The Junior Classical League, or Latin Club, under the direction of Mr. Washington, devotes most of its time to demonstrating ways in which Latin lives today.

Spanish Club

Officers: Mrs. Pecora, sponsor; Sharon Brunazzi, president; Pat DiRocco, vice-president; Dolly Biro, secretary; Stephanie Fenczik, treasurer.

"Get off that platform!"

Spanish Club class representatives

The Spanish Club with the help of Mrs. Pecora, club advisor, remains an active organization by their many social events. This year members of the club performed a skit to demonstrate the importance of knowing how to speak the language of a country before visiting there. The club's major project is their annual Easter candy sale.

¿ Hablan ustedes español? Mais non, nous parlons français!

Le Cercle Francais

Under the leadership of their advisor, Miss Coleman, the French Club works to promote an appreciation of French life and cultures.

Officers: Miss Coleman, sponsor; Pat Shatting, president; Pam Servov, vice-president; Cathy Ellis, secretary; Jeannie Crain, treasurer.

English

A spirited discussion in "E. A. P." "Was Ibsen right? Is the majority always wrong?"

The English Department is continually providing improvement in preparation for college courses. The overhead projector is used by composition classes to furnish a wider scope of study. Miss Scott's advanced placement class includes those seniors interested in more advanced literary study. Junior group lectures, new this year, allow a greater specialization in book reviews, grammar studies, and vocabulary building.

Studies in the Past and the Present.

Team teaching has become the major method of instructing history courses. Lectures prepare freshmen in civics and Pennsylvania History. World Culture lectures are conducted by Mr. Bacha, Mrs. Stephenson, and Mr. Lopresti for all sophomores. Here they examine transparencies to be used in the overhead projector.

"Either you do it our way, or you don't do it at all!"

Social Studies

They think a lot in A P. history.

Science Club

Officers: Mr. Ciavarra, sponsor; Dan Arico, president; Jade Rost, vice-president; Margaret Simon, secretary; Peggie McLean, treasurer.

Doors to Creativity

The Science Club, sponsored by Mr. Ciavarra, has worked to arouse curiosity in E.F.'s young scientists. The research program, started last summer, gives these students an opportunity to do original research.

The Art Club under the direction of Mr. Oakes, gives creative students a chance to express themselves in an after-school activity.

Art Club

Officers: Mr. Oakes, sponsor; Tom Zadroga, president; Darla Williams, secretary. Rear: Pat Marvenko, vice-president; Karen Thompson, treasurer.

FNA

Officers: Mrs. Clark, sponsor; Sandy Rudberg, president; Bobbie Jenkins, secretary; Sharon Stanton, historian. Rear: Ellen Swarm, vice-president; Carol Sterling, treasurer.

"How to be a Nurse," on film.

From the time they were tiny tots these girls have dreamed of becoming nurses. Their dreams gain some degree of realization as Mrs. Clark, their sponsor, arranges trips for them to visit hospitals and other research centers.

Help!
For Hospitals and Homes

The Future Homemakers of America are busy learning all they can about cooking and sewing. These girls under the direction of Mrs. Green and Mrs. Day, are preparing to become good wives, mothers, and homemakers.

Officers: Mrs. Day, sponsor; Barbe McCarthy, president; Sandy Moorcroft, vice-president; Pat Protz, secretary; Lynda Sabol, treasurer; Sherrie Maumee; Mrs. Green, sponsor.

FHA

Officers: Miss Checque, sponsor; Linda Kite, president; Janice Bailey, vice-president; Betty Costa, secretary; Marsha Whiting, treasurer; Theresa Janicki, reporter; Mrs. Patterson, sponsor.

"Always wear a smile" is the motto of the Elizabeth-Forward Business Leaders, sponsored by Mrs. Patterson and Miss Checque. Members of this club gain necessary experience by working as salesgirls at the student store, and learning how to operate modern office machinery.

Students Boon: Business and Books

The busiest room of the school is the library which is operated smoothly and efficiently by library aides, under the direction of Miss Lauder. Here students can find information on any subject from Alpha particles to Zionism.

Library

Choral Groups

The choirs, directed by Mr. Harrity, are an active part of the school. The Girl's Chorus, Boy's Glee Club, and the Freshman Choir take part in the annual Christmas program and present a concert in the spring. Besides having a part in the Christmas program, the Warrior Choir, the best singing group in this area, presents a fall concert, a musical play, and a spring concert. In addition, the Warrior Choir enters competitions at various area colleges.

Our choral groups, this year as in the past, have brought honors to Elizabeth-Forward High School.

Door to Fitness
Sports

The E.F.H.S. teams of '64 have been opening challenging doors to victory. Each game has brought anxious crowds expecting another winner.

The football team has shown its ability to "fight tenaciously" despite dust or rainy weather. The basketball team showed this same spunk during its season. The track team, baseball team, and golf team all provided spring sports enjoyment for active athletes. All sports, however, whether it be football, baseball, or golf, are an important part of E.-F. activity. The students have always been interested in athletics, both as spectators and as participants. Healthy minds and healthy bodies are the keys to E.-F.'s success.

Team and Coaches

The Red and Black Football team this year under the coaching of Mr. Hays was one of the greatest ever. With a 6-2-1 record, and losses only to North and McKeesport, the team can really be proud. The Warriors had returning lettermen, and many more who helped the team on to victory. The spirit of team and fans this year was at an all time high, with bigger crowds at games than can be remembered by most E.F. followers. The new field in the natural bowl beside the high school was opened for use this year and every home game saw the hillside crowded with interested spectators.

The Warrior team of 1963 was definitely one of the best ever, and the students should be proud of its members, as well as the coaches who led it to victory.

Pigskin Weekend

On October 12 the Warriors met the Donora Dragons in a Homecoming Weekend football game. The events began with a bonfire pep rally Friday night followed by a Cocoa Pour in the cafeteria. At half time of the game Saturday, the five contestants: Sharon Brunazzi, Betty Jane Howell, Carol Marraccini, Pollyann Hynde, and Cynthia Hanna were escorted onto the field. The winner, Cynthia, was named and crowned Pigskin Princess. As a climax, the Warriors won 42-6. Then Saturday night, a victory dance, which was open to alumni, was held in the school.

Basketball–1964

The Red and Black Team provided some real action for E.F. students on Tuesday and Friday nights. Mr. Leffard, head coach of the Warriors, put together a fighting team which played hard against every team it came up against. Mike Fleischauer was the only returning letterman, but other Warriors such as Lou Posa, Cal Opfer, Bill Buck, Ed Duval, and Craig Cotton turned in good performances.

In pre-section play, the Warriors had a respectable record. Many close losses made E-F's section record rather disappointing, but the basketball team still supplied some exciting moments.

Track – 1963

Long, tedious hours of calisthenics and miles of roadwork, paid off for Elizabeth Forward's '63-'64 track team. Mr. West's and Mr. Yablonski's careful direction helped members of the team set new records and achieve new goals for the Red and Black. Whether it be an E.F. high or broad jumper setting new records, or an E.F. runner finishing first, the team finished high in the standings.

Everyone hopes that the '64 team will bestow even more honors to grace the halls of Elizabeth Forward High.

Golf

Fore! This word may sound more appropriate for the fairway than in a high school yearbook, but E.F.'s golf team has moved to the fairway. The '63 golf team, under the coaching of Mr. Moreschi, had a very successful season, beating almost every team in its path. Perhaps the '64 team will have even greater luck on the greens.

Boosters of School Spirit

Throughout the year at Betsy High, the mascots and majorettes join the cheerleaders in supporting the teams as the Warriors march on to victory. During football season spectators held their breath as mascots Donna Smith and Diane Good performed acrobatic stunts to the music of the Warrior Band.

The E.F. majorettes did their routines before the game, at half time, and any time the Warriors scored. They were also present at pep rallies to arouse school spirit.

Door to New Interests
Activities

Our school's activities open the door to fun and enjoyment. E.-F.'s after-school organizations give every student an opportunity to express his own creativity. The door to our future vocation may lie in our activities today. The clubs we find most entertaining may inspire us to become teachers, nurses, or even actors. The student government, high school publications, and forensic club all take an active part in deciding new and greater improvements for our school.

All Smiles and Fun.

National Honor Society

The National Honor Society is a select group of students chosen each year by the faculty and administration. The Honor Society members have helped create an enthusiasm for scholarship at E.-F. Through a solemn tapping service, fifteen percent of the senior class and ten percent of the junior class are inducted as members of this society.

Student Council

The Student Council is the governing body of Elizabeth-Forward High School. The council, with representatives from each home room, works to promote the student exchange program, to improve the cafeteria and hall conditions, and to give food to needy families. With the advice of Mr. Ripepi the organization determines rules and regulations for the school.

National Forensic League

The National Forensic League, or Debate Club, is one of the most active organizations in our high school. Competing with other high schools, the members have won many honors. The sponsor of this club is Mrs. Bagenstos. Members of the N.F.L. attend tournaments during the school year in order to learn better speaking and debating skills. These tournaments are held at various high schools throughout western Pennsylvania. In the area of speech, a student can enter any of the five categories: extemp, drama, humor, oratorical declamation, or original oration. This year's debate topic concerned complete medical care through Social Security. At the end of each year the best speeches from all of the western Pennsylvania schools join together in the semi-final and final tournaments. From this competition emerge the best speaker in each category and the best debating team.

Y-Teens

The Y-Teens, sponsored by the McKeesport Y.M.C.A., is a club for girls. The Y-Teens cabinet plans interesting programs. This year a dinner, a children's Christmas party, a hypnotist, films, panel discussions, and a hat show were part of the activities. The Y-Teens plan two trips a year. On the first trip the club representatives go to Deep Creek with neighboring club representatives to discuss new programs. This year the Y-Teens plan to go to New York City by bus and to attend the World's Fair. The Y-Teens aid others by packing food baskets for needy families at Thanksgiving, helping special education children to their buses, and contributing time and money to the Y.M.C.A. E.F.'s Active and Athletic Males

The Lettermen Club, under the direction of Mr. Rockwell, is designed for the boys who have earned one or more athletic letters. The main object of the club is to promote good sportsmanship within the school. Each year the club sponsors a basketball game between the faculty and the lettermen to pay for jackets for all the members. They also started a money-making project this year, selling Pepsi at basketball games.

"Look out behind!"

The Girl's Athletic Association, sponsored by Mrs. Allen, provides all the girls with a chance to take part in after-school physical activities. They can participate in volleyball, archery, softball, tumbling, and apparatus work.

The Pep Club, sponsored by Mrs. Roslund, leads the school's enthusiasm even when our team is behind. By arranging for fan buses, members of the club make it possible for many students to attend football and basketball games.

Sports Promoters

Officers: Mrs. Roslund, sponsor; Vonnie Lees, president; Marcelle Niccolls, vice-president; Nancy Beganics, secretary; Linda Florenz, treasurer.

Pep Club

Officers: Mr. Caird, sponsor; Jim March, president; Nicki Bruno, vice-president; Chris Duvall, secretary. Rear: Barb Hoffman, treasurer; Sharon Brunazzi, historian; Dennis Large, Sergeant-at-arms.

Elizabethan Players

Under the leadership of Mr. Caird, the Elizabethan Players work to promote an appreciation of drama. From the senior and junior class plays, the club members nominate the winners of the Effie Awards.

The F.T.A. is the future of our country's schools. The Roaring Twenties Dance they held this year was the talk of the school. They also held a fund raising bake sale. The whole club looked forward to the trip to Indiana State Teacher's College to see real campus life.

Front: Mary Ann Dyer (Best Supporting Actress "Our Town"), Jerry James (Best Actor "Finian's Rainbow"), Daryl Favro (Best Actress "Our Town"), Rear: Charles Hofmeister (Best Supporting Actor "Dobie Gillis"), Sharon Brunazzi (Best Character Actress, "Dobie Gillis"), Alvin Miller (Best Technician).

F.T.A.

Officers: Mr. Washington, sponsor; Sheryll Smith, president; Barb Zoltun, vice-president; Dawn Fedorka, secretary; Joan Hails, treasurer.

Explorers

Explorer Post 100 is a club for teenage boys who like to use their spare time constructively. Their projects include selling Hot Rod magazines and sponsoring a model car show. The club, under the direction of Mr. Kirchner, has a car of their own in order to study its mechanisms.

Scouting or Signaling?

The radio club, sponsored by Mr. Ciavarra, is designed especially for students whose hobby is the study of radios. They learn how to build, operate, and repair their own communications system. These "ham" operators enjoy discussing their radio interests with other members of the club.

Members: Bob Wivagg, Ron Klulsznski, Bob Berquist, Tom Landini, Fred Smith, Rich Fetchen

Photo Club

By participating in the Photo Club, students are given a chance to demonstrate their talents. With the help of Mr. Echard, club sponsor, members learn to take and develop better pictures.

Officers: Mr. Echard, sponsor; Robert Bane, president; Fred Smith, vice-president; Patricia Pratt, secretary; Kathy Smith, treasurer.

Chee-eze? or Checkmate?

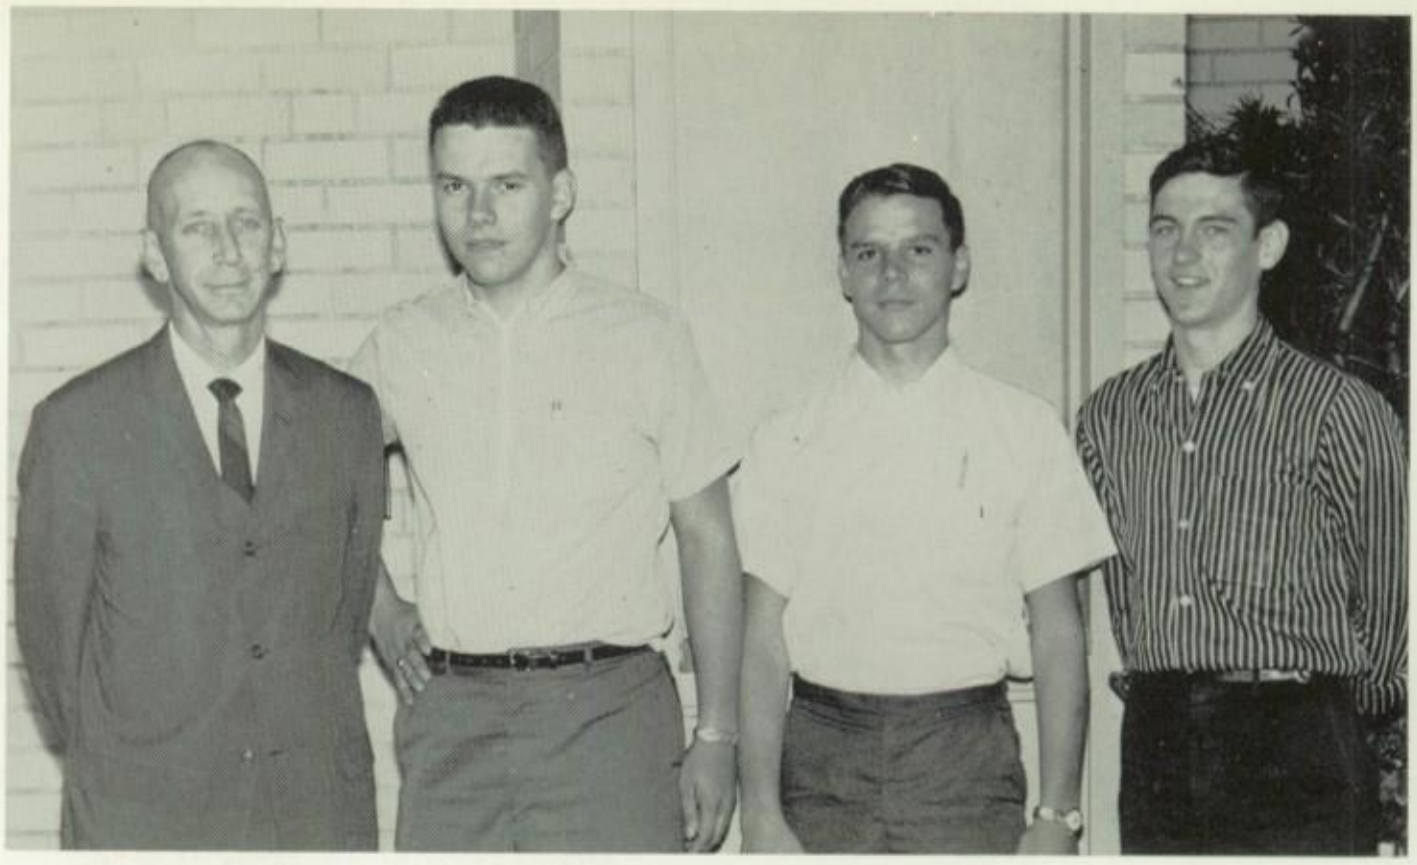
"Your move, buddy."

The Chess Club, sponsored by Mr. Mazanet, was organized for students who enjoy activities which require a great amount of concentration. Chess is often called the "royal game" because of its being a contest of intellectual skill.

Chess Club

Officers: Dan Arico, president; Bob Johnson, vice-president; Mary Jordon, secretary; Lloyd Lorenzi, treasurer.

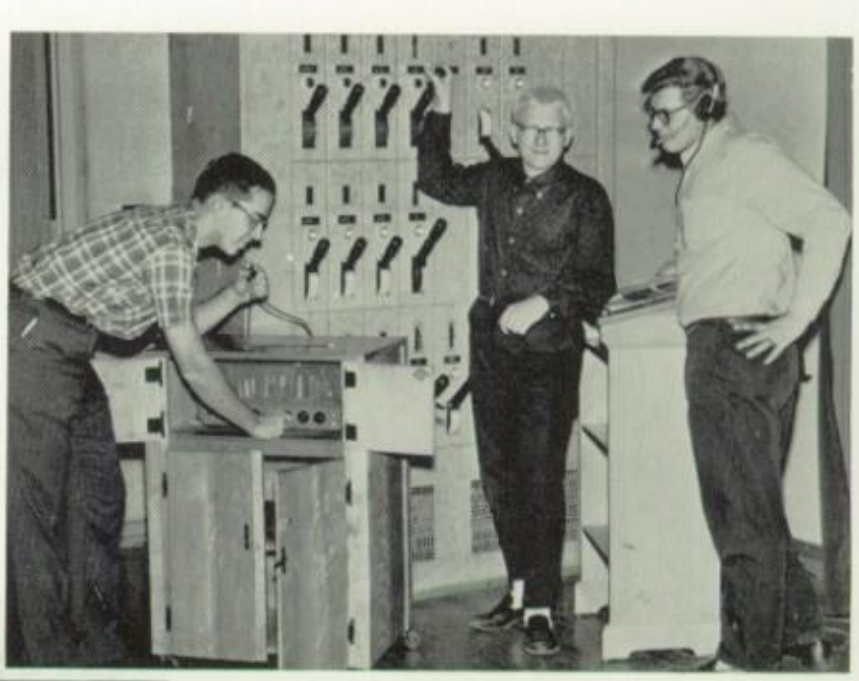
Projection Crew



Officers: Mr. Stoner, sponsor; Rich Thomas, assistant director; Gary Somerfield, president; Gary Rosenberger, vice-president.

The projection crew, directed by Mr. Stoner, is a help to teachers. They show movies and make tape recordings for any class. Their help with audio-visual aids is especially necessary for the large lectures.

Whenever there is an auditorium performance, the stage crew is as important as the performers. The stage crew handles the scenery, lighting, and curtains. Their job is not finished when the curtain closes. They must tear down the setting, and make certain the equipment is in good working condition. Mr. Thompson is their director.



Officers: Dan Rothey, president; Vernon Opfer, vice-president; Bruce Menozzi, secretary; Darrell Miller, treasurer. Front: Harry McDaniel, lighting technician; Allan Kovacs, sound technician.

Stage Crew

Service Crew

Elizabeth Forward wouldn't be able to operate without its service crew. They are the people whom students take for granted: the bus drivers, the cooks, and the custodians. Bus transportation is a necessity since students from Elizabeth Township, Forward Township, and Elizabeth Borough all attend one high school. The cafeteria workers are responsible for feeding E.F.'s sixteen-hundred students every day, and the custodians keep our high school building in shape.

Cooks: Front: Mrs. Rose Marchelatta, Mrs. Alice Bershok, Mrs. M. J. Hough, Mrs. Catherine Atkinson, Mrs. Dorothy Duval. Back: Mrs. Ann Akers, Mrs. Betty Stefanko, Mrs. Ann Bilak, Mrs. Marge Anderson, Mrs. Louise Hill, Mrs. Irene Thomas, Mrs. Helen Jenkins. In a rare quiet moment in the kitchen.

Here the bus drivers assemble, anxious to begin to jolly trip home.

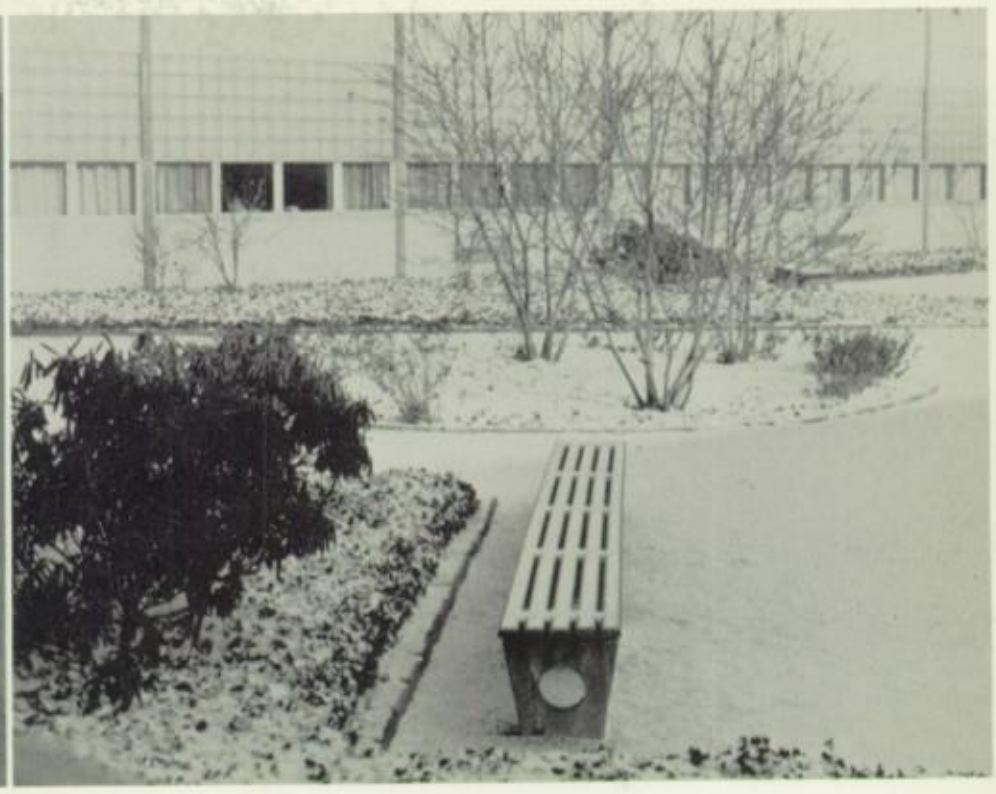
Custodians

Ready to start the swing shift—Custodians: Lou Gephart, Walter Rhodes, Joe Martini, Dave Matthew, Ralph Rockwell.

Genevieve Smith takes a "book break" as she polishes up the library.

In going through the yearbooks of the past years, this year's staff found that one important thing was often missing. Few pictures of E. F.'s own halls and courtyards are in evidence.

All E.F.



Since we feel our school is one of the most attractive in this area, a campus section has been added to display the beauty behind E. F.'s portals. The pictures shown here were taken "Around E. F." and will help the student keep a lasting picture of his school.

Queen Barby —
"At the End of the Rainbow"

'63 Prom:

"At the End of the Rainbow"

On May 12 the door of the silver castle opened on the 1963 Junior-Senior Prom, "At the End of the Rainbow." Everyone danced under a blue sky with glittering clouds and an irridescent rainbow. The faces in the crowd reflected the joy and excitement of the evening. The queen's court—Vonnie Poskon, Pam Bondi, Karen Simpson, and Sally McGrann with their escorts awaited the coronation. At the climax of the evening, retiring queen Pinky Poskon crowned the 1963 queen Barby Hoffman. The coronation was completed as Barby received her scepter. Finally Barby had time for a dance with her escort, Bruce Pigozzi. The evening came quickly to a close, but the enchantment of the evening will linger on.

Senior Class Play:

On Thursday, November 21 and Saturday, November 30, the Seniors presented their class play. The play, selected by the director, Mr. Caird, was George Bernard Shaw's "Pygmalion." It is the story of a Cockney flower girl, Eliza Doolittle, who is transformed into a lady by Professor Higgins. He successfully passes her off as a Duchess after months of training.

At the closing performance, Mary Schmidt, who played Eliza, was presented with a bouquet of red roses. As a token of their gratitude, the cast also bought Mr. Caird a gift. The play was another highlight in the senior year of the Class of 1964.

"I'm a good girl, I am."

"Hey! Hey! What goes on here?"

"Mrs., Miss, and Freddie Eynsford-Hill.

"Liza, your mother and I are getting married this afternoon."

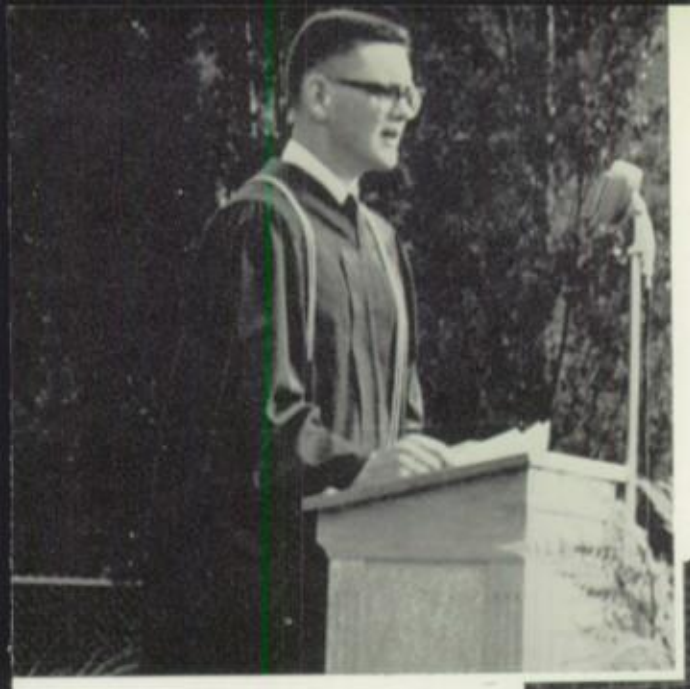
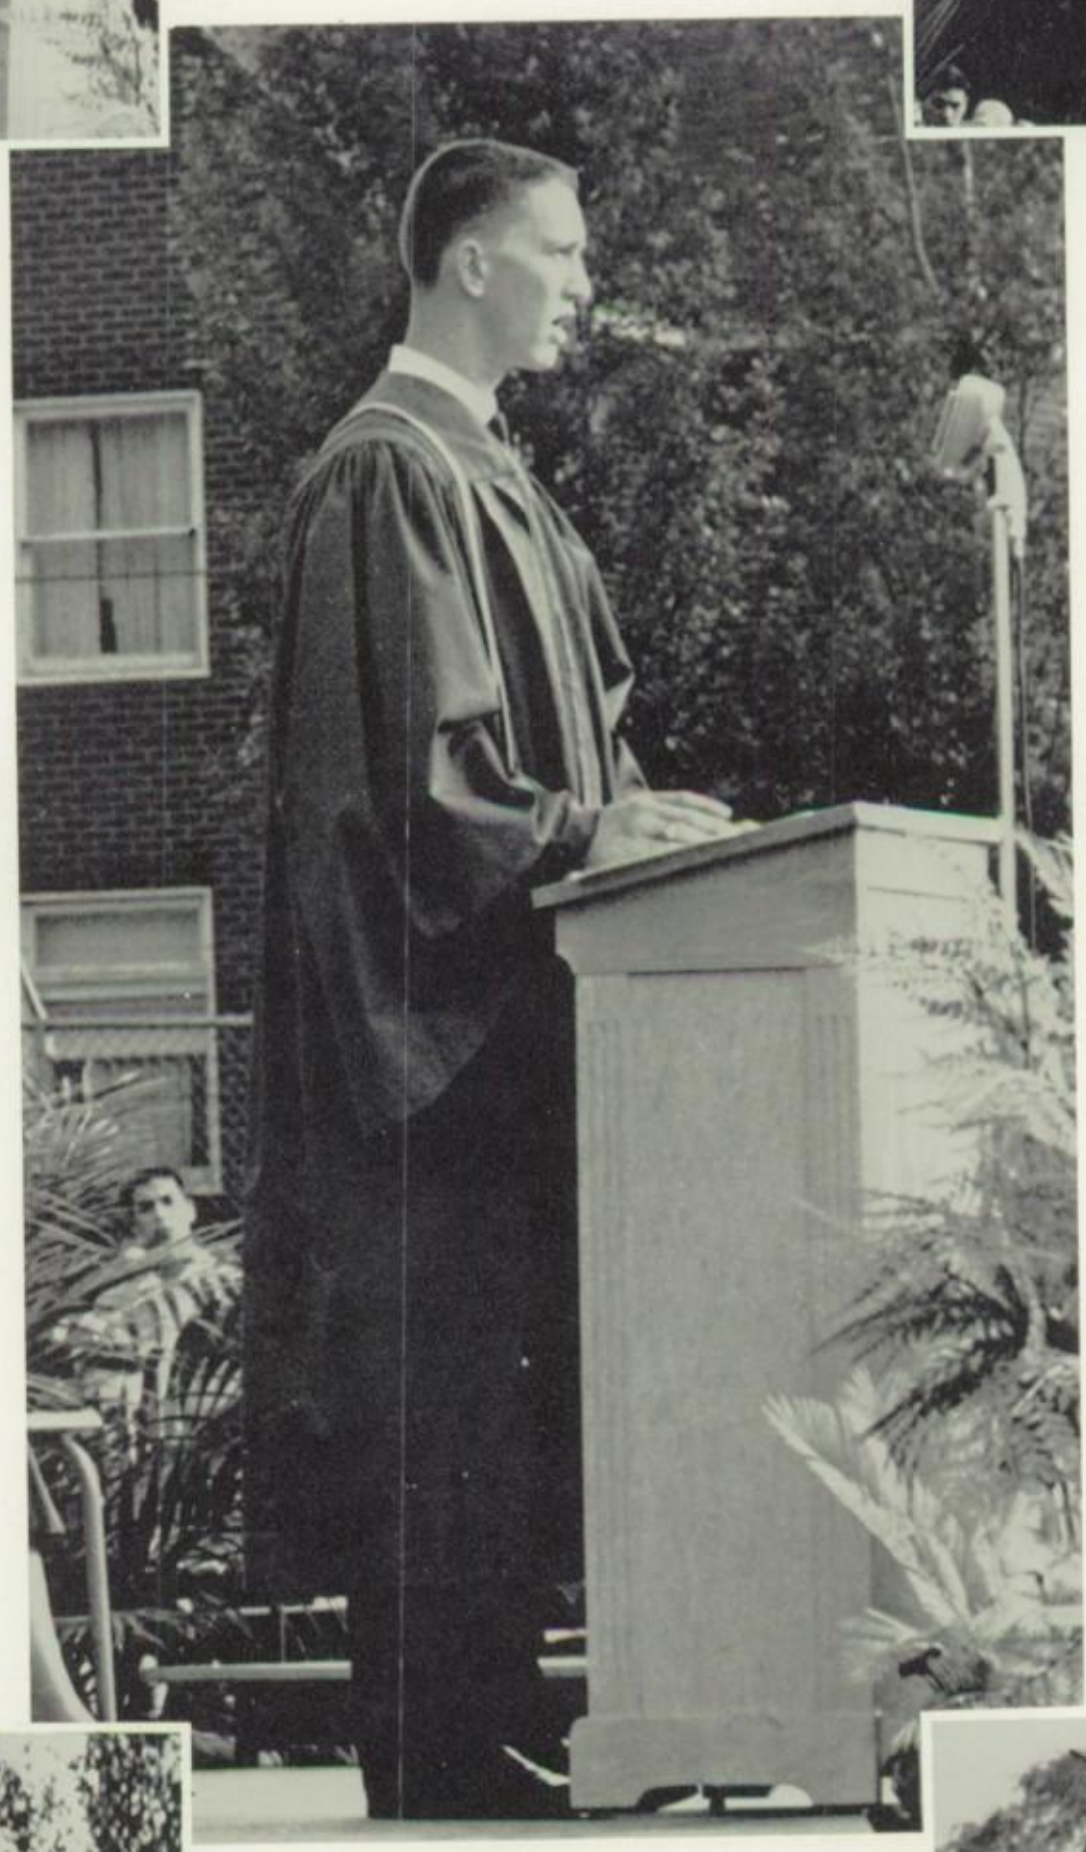
Commencement

"FORWARD WITH FITNESS"



William Neal speaks of the need for vocational fitness.

Dina Natali talks of the great value of academic fitness.



Lance Sturni, President of the Class of '63, welcomes those attending Commencement and goes on to speak of the problem of physical fitness.

The program was opened with the Invocation by the Reverend L. E. Garner. Under the direction of Mr. Harrity, the Warrior Choir presented "Jig for Voices" and "Waters Ripple and Flow."

Following the student speeches, Dr. Storer spoke briefly, and Dr. Toth announced the senior awards. Mr. Benedetti presented the class to Dr. Faulk who issued the diplomas.

The proceedings were closed by group singing of the Alma Mater and the Benediction by the Reverend W. F. Kinnan.

Jane McCune's discussion of social fitness closed the speaking program.

Dr. Faulk and Dr. Storer then presented the long-awaited diplomas. James Ludwig is shown receiving his.

As the school doors slowly come to a close, so does this year's Eli-Mon. All the work that goes into making a yearbook is now forgotten. Many events which seemed so long ago have been recalled as though they happened just yesterday. Just as no door is ever complete without a knob, no year is complete without an Eli-Mon. The editors and members of the staff of 1964 are happy to have been able to bring its school a book that will open many lasting memories of this school year.

The editors also want to acknowledge that this book would not have been possible without the help of the School Board, the administration and faculty, our patrons, Tony DelVecchio, the Strem Studio photographer, Jack Makepeace, and our advisors Miss Scott and Mr. Echard. The 1964 staff wishes to thank these people for their kindness and co-operation.

Jennie,
To a sweet girl with a sense of humor. Well I guess it's over. We started off in Algebra class (I'll never forget the time) last year — I remember the time — I don't forget about Chemistry class and having — Oh, Chem. class and Mr. Lee — what about — Mrs. Lee — wasn't she a — Madam — was as I said, the best of friends, I hope it always is.

JENNIE,

A WONDERFUL, SWINGING, "BOY-CRAZY" GIRL WHO IS SUCH A PLEASURE TO HAVE AROUND. I AM VERY GRATEFUL THAT I HAVE HAD THE CHANCE TO KNOW YOU, I HOPE THAT WE WILL CONTINUE TO BE FRIENDS FOR MANY YEARS TO COME, WHEN WE WALK THROUGH THE DOORS OF E.F.H.S. NEXT YEAR, I HOPE YOU WILL LOOK UPON IT AS ONLY THE BEGINNING —— TO BIGGER AND BETTER THINGS. GOOD LUCK IN THE FUTURE; AND MAY YOU ALWAYS BE HAPPY. NEVER FORGET THE CRAZY TIMES WE'VE HAD IN CHEMISTRY ('SPECIALLY IN LAB). WHENEVER WE SEE EACH OTHER, (IN FUTURE YEARS), AT CLASS RE-UNIONS, REMEMBER TO ARM YOURSELF WITH A WASH-BOTTLE WHEN WE SEE TOMZ.
